Reports on His Race in the South

I am printing this as a contribution to the public record on the so-called racial problem of the South. Actually, there is a racial problem in the North also—but you don't hear about that as long as your information comes from political sources.

No mention was made of it, for instance, when one of the Pittsburgh (Pa.) newspapers sent a white man disguised as a negro down South to write a series of anti-Southern articles.

But mention is made by a prosperous Northern negro who has written an article himself. The negro, Davis Lee, is publisher of the negro newspaper, The Telegram, of Newark, N. J., which is said to have some 100,000 readers in the South. Here is Lee's side of the story, without benefit of politics:

"I have just returned from an extensive tour of the South. In addition to meeting and talking with our agents and distributors who get our newspapers out to the more than 500,000 readers in the South, I met both Negroes and whites in the urban and rural centers.

"Because of these personal observations, studies and contacts, I feel that I can speak with some degree of authority. I am certainly in a better position to voice an opinion than the Negro leader who occupies a suite in downtown New York and hases his opinions on the South from the distorted stories he reads in the Negro press and in the Daily Worker (Communist Party organ).

"The racial lines in the South are so clearly drawn and defined that there can be no confusion. When I am in Virginia or South Carolina I wonder if I will be served if I walked into a white restaurant. I know the score. However, I have walked into several night houses in New Jersey where we have a civil rights law, and I've been refused service.

"The whites in the South stay with their own and the Negroes do likewise. This one fact has been the economic salvation of the Negro in the South. Atlanta, Ga., compares favorably with Newark in size and population. Negroes there own and control millions of dollars worth of business. All of the Negro business in New Jersey amounts to as much as our race has in one city in Georgia. This is also true in South Carolina and Virginia.

"New Jersey today boasts of more civil rights legislation than any other state in the union, and the state government itself practices more discrimination than Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina or Georgia. New Jersey employs one Negro in the motor vehicle department. All of the states' above mentioned employment.

"No matter what a Negro wants to do, he can do it in the South. In Spartanburg, S. C., Ernest Collins, a young Negro, operates a large funeral home, a taxicab business, a drug store, a grocery store, has several buses, runs a large farm and a night club.

"Collins couldn't do all that in New Jersey or New York. The only bus line operated by Negroes in the South, The Safe Bus company in Winston-Salem, N. C., owns and operates over a hundred buses. A Negro in New Jersey or New York could not attempt to obtain a franchise to operate a line he would not only be turned down, but he would be lucky if he didn't get a bullet in the back.

"The attitude of the Southerners toward our race is a natural psychological reaction to the aftermath of the Civil War. Negroes were the properties of these people.

"Certainly you could not expect the South to forget this in 75 or even 150 years. That feeling has passed from one generation to another, but it is not one of hatred toward the Negro. The South just doesn't believe that the Negro has grown up. No section of the country has made more progress in finding a workable solution to the Negro problem than the South. Naturally Southerners are resentful when the North attempts to run a civil rights program down their throats.

"The entire race program in America is wrong. We expend all our energies, and spend millions of dollars trying to convince white people that we are as good as they are, and that we are an equal. Joe Louis is not looked upon as a Negro but the greatest fighter of all times, loved and admired by whites in South Carolina as much as by those in Michigan. He convinced the world, not by propaganda and agitation, but by demonstration.

"Our fight for recognition, justice, civil rights and equality should be carried on within the race. Let us demonstrate to the world by our living standards, our conduct, our ability and intelligence that we are the equal of any man, and when we shall have done this the entire world, including the South, will accept us on our terms. Our present program of threats and agitation makes enemies out of our friends."

McMath Accepts Invitation to Livestock Show

Members of Roundup clubs and boosters from the Third District Livestock Show District were given a rousing welcome at Hot Springs yesterday and Governor-Elect Sid McMath accepted an invitation to attend the opening day's show here September 20.

In fact Mr. McMath will ride in the opening day parade, wearing a $50 hat, a shirt, boots which were presented to him by the Hope Roundup Club.

Parading in Hot Springs were about 50 horsemen, 40 to 50 cars from all over the area. Magnolia Oil Belt Roundup club made the trip and carried 11 head of horses and a large Nevada County group was headed by Brad Bright. The caravan was joined by others at Gurdon and Arkadelphia enroute and met at Hot Springs by groups from over the stock district.

At the Arlington Hotel, following a long parade from Gurdon Park, Mayor Earl Rix welcomed the group to Hot Springs. He was presented with a large 110-pound watermelon, that almost stole the show. Mayor Lyle Brown thanked him in behalf of the group and Judge Fred A. Luck expressed appreciation for the stock district. T. S. Cornelius presented the gifts to Mr. McMath. Music was furnished by Hempstead Melody Boys.

The entire affair went off as expected and allowed members to return to Hope and respective cities in time to help open the 1948 football season.

Registration to End on Sept. 18

Members of Selective Service Local Board No. 29 announced today that the initial period for registration closed by the President of the United States will end September 18, 1948.

The law requires every man residing in this local board area, who was born after August 30, 1926, and before September 19, 1930, to register by the end of the registration period fixed by the President. The said Local Board states registration has been rather slow. The law fixes penalties for failure to register. Men who are subject to registration at this time will be delinquent and subject to penalties if they fail to register by September 18, 1948.

All men who are not 13 years old by September 18, 1948, will register on their 18th birthday, or five days thereafter.

The members of the Local Board solicit the cooperation of all employers in the area, in seeing that their employees who are subject to registration report at the office of the Local Board during office hours (8 a.m. to 5 p.m.) and register. Registrations close at 5 p.m.

Laney Can't Make Good His Bet

Lander, Wyo., Sept. 10 — (AP) — There'll be no exchange of either Arkansas or Wyoming Hot Springs as a result of the one-shot antelope hunt here Wednesday.

Governor-elect Lester C. Laney and Lester C. Hunt of Wyoming before the hunt badgered one another with offers to bet the best Hot Springs in either state over the outcome of the hunt. However, neither in the did too well, so the bet fell by the way side.

Governor Hunt offered to put up the worlds largest Hot Spring at Wyoming's Hot Springs State Park at Thermopolis in support of his claim. Laney, in support of his claim, offered to put up the worlds largest Hot Spring at Arkansas's Hot Springs State Park at Hot Springs.

When the teams of the two states met here before the hunt Tuesday, they tied in a target shooting contest, and on the day of the hunt Wyoming killed three antelope and Arkansas two. Wyoming lost the hunt to Colorado though by a Judge's decision because the Colorado antelope killed with their horns were first.

Arkansas was so disgusted with the result of the offer, Governor Laney said he didn't care whether he bet or not.

Governor Hunt today, "Then of course the outcome of the hunt turned it for both of us."

Bobcats Get Past DeQueen 34-0 in Opening Football Game Before Large Crowd

Led by hard charging Buddy Sutton the Hope Bobcats got past their first hurdle of the 1948 football season here last night by licking DeQueen 34 to 0 in a game that drew some 4000 fans.

Hope lost no time in scoring after recovering a DeQueen fumble on the 35-yard line. Sutton slashed offense and went the distance. Lee kicked extra point. Before the quarter ended Hope had another tally when Britt went over from the 1-yard line after setting it up with a 23-yard sprint. The second tally resulted from a 70-yard march.

Midway in the second quarter Hope again started rolling from its own 24. LaGrone picked up 20 yards to the 44 and Sutton sprinted down to DeQueen's 40 where he passed to Britt on the 25 and the Bobcats fastboy had no trouble going on across. Again for the period ended Sutton on a naked reverse circled end for 52 yards and a score putting Hope ahead 27-0 at the half.

During the half period bands from both Hope and DeQueen performed.

The second half was much more interesting with both teams playing on about equal terms. The Bobcats were unable to get started in the third period but tallied again on a 59-yard dash by Sutton midway in the last quarter.

DeQueen's main threat came in the final period with three successive touchdowns with Elliott and Bell, their main offensive threats, went to the Hope 2-yard line. The Hope line held twice as the game ended.

For an opening game both teams played surprisingly well. Hope blocked periodically and the backfield's ball handling was very slick. Both Hope tackles, McCargo and Garrett, and guards Duffie and Westbrook proved they are the mainstays of the line. Hammons showed up best at end.

The Bobcat backfield showed special burst with Huddleston standing out as a line snacker. The backs were the margin of victory as the two lines battled nip and tuck most of the way. Hope gained consistently on end runs but couldn't do much through the visiting line.

DeQueen made 9 first downs to 8 for Hope; Sutton passed 5 times, completed only one for a touchdown; DeQueen passed four times and completed one. Hope drew 7 penalties for 55 yards; DeQueen one for 5 yards; Sutton scored 18 points; DeQueen 0. Lee kicked four of 5 extra points.

The Hope team goes to Prescott next Friday night.

Little Rock's Tigers, who have monopolized Arkansas high school football honors for two years, extended their unbeaten string to 33 games as the 1948 season was wrapped last night.

By the time the Tigers didn't look much like their powerhouse of '46 and '47 as they had to come from behind to defeat the Russellville Cyclones 20 to 9. Two touchdowns passed by Bobby Spann and an 80-yard scoring punt run back by Kenneth Carter offset a safety and a touchdown marked up by the underdog Cyclones in the first quarter.

The struggle indicated Little Rock may have trouble in its drive for the Triple A (Big Six) championship while Russellville will bear watching in its Double A division.

Another Big Six eleven, Fort Smith, had a close call. The Grizzlies had to hustle to nose out Van Buren, a double A entry, 7 to 6.

There were upsets in the season opener. Blytheville's double A Chickies turned in one of the most surprising performances as they defeated the 27-0 over the Big Six 26 to 7. Chick Captain R. C. Allen scored half his team's points.

Another surprise came at Texarkana where Nashville tripped the Grizzlies 7 to 6 on the strength of O. Thompson's place kick. Hope, a favorite in the Double A bracket, came through as expected with a 34-0 conquest of DeQueen, a Class A eleven. Camden, a Class A eleven, lost to the Grizzlies 21-0. Camden's campaign with a 39-0 decision over McGeechee in a non-division game.

None of last night's games counted in district races of Triple A, Double A or A teams, but a handful of Class B teams started after falls in the 10-11-fifties.

Other scores: Malvern 16 Dierks 6; Benton 7 Dierks 6; Warren 13 Fordyce 7; Babot 4 Clinton 0; Bauxie 25 Bauxie 6; Sherbro 21 Bismark 6; Downt 0 North Little Rock 20; Conway 20 Dandanelle 0; Beebe 8 Stuttgart 7; Augusta 6 Searcy 6; Silsboro 30 Norwalk 0; Texarkana north Heights 21 Norwalk 0; Gillet 75 Stuttgart 0; Hope 34 DeQueen 0.

Officers Arrest Two in McNab Liquor Raid

Officers today announced the arrest of Philip Knigdon of McNab and Nubian Trotter, Negro, in a raid on a liquor still contrived in Hempstead county yesterday. The group seized 112 gallons of liquor and destroyed a large quantity of junk. Participating were County and Federal officers.

Truman Quits Plan for Big Drive in South

Washington, Sept. 11 — (AP) — President Truman has abandoned plans for a lengthy southern campaign tour, friends said today as the Dixie revolt against his civil rights program mounted.

While Mr. Truman will make some appearances in the South, they will be on a selective, brief, single-trip basis or added to other general schedules.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey meanwhile disclosed plans for eight major talks on his transcontinental tour, which will close on the heels of Mr. Truman's western swing.

Dewey's opener in Des Moines, Iowa, September 20. Like the president, he is scheduled to speak in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Although the Republicans and Democrats are ranging the domestic field in their political scuffling, they are in agreement on keeping basic foreign policy bipartisan.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan said this up last night after a conference in New York with Dewey and John Foster Dulles, Dewey's foreign affairs adviser.

Regardless of political differences at home, Vandenberg said, "We are serving notice on the world that America is united to protect American rights everywhere and through firmness in the right to seek peace with justice for ourselves and the other peace-loving peoples of the world."

The controversy on the domestic program meanwhile, broke out anew. Senator Edward Martin (R-Pa.) charged Mr. Truman with resorting to "the most indecent kind of political trickery and political dishonesty" in bringing the 80th Congress for inflation.

Senator Baldwin of Connecticut also blamed Mr. Truman for high prices. A Republican administration, he said, would attack inflation "on a broad base." But he ruled out price controls.

While Mr. Truman was taking a weekend rest on the Potomac aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg, he received some disturbing news yesterday from the Senate. The 14th amendment, which scratched his name off the November ballot, they voted to list the states rights candidates in his place.

Henry Wallace referred to the age and tonal incidents of his Southern trip last night in opening his New York state campaign at Yankee Stadium. He told some 45,000 paying customers that in the South he had tasted "the ugly reality of fascism and that it had strengthened his 'American' resolution to fight it wherever and whenever it appears."

He called on President Truman "to pledge with me that whoever shall be elected, he will enforce the second section of the 14th amendment that call for the reduction of congressmen for each state where the right to vote is abridged."

The Wallace forces promised new trouble for Mr. Truman in his Missouri home grounds.

A ruling of the state's attorney general putting the Wallace Progressives on the ballot spurred new Republican hopes of carrying Missouri.

There is strong speculation that Dewey will make a Missouri visit "a must," either on his opening tour or later.

Arkansas' Bumper Rice Crop May Hit New Record

Little Rock, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Arkansas' bumper rice crop may hit a new record this year.

Hope Employment Office Ordered to Disclose Records

Six southwest Arkansas firms, claiming that their unemployment compensation tax rate was raised last April 1 from one to one and one-half per cent, today obtained a circuit court order to compel the Hope district office of the Employment Security Division to disclose the records of individual claimants of unemployment benefits to the employers.

The companies, asserting that the little Rock office had prohibited the Hope district office from giving any information to employers or their representatives, brought a mandamus action in Hempstead circuit court against the Hope district office and Teddy M. Jones, its manager. The action, which sought a temporary order and a writ of mandamus, was filed in the district office of the Employment Security Division.

Huge Flight of Birds Crash Into Empire State

New York, Sept. 11 — (UP) — A flight of thousands of little brown birds migrating south from Canada crashed today against the Empire State building, causing a huge flight, traveling at about 30 miles per hour, smashed into the side of the building and tumbled down into a four-block area around Fifth avenue in mid-Manhattan.

Hundreds of the birds, stunned and exhausted, fell onto the building's ledges and parapets. Their chirps filled the night, attracting the crowd.

Three persons were hit by falling birds, but none of the onlookers was injured seriously.

An ornithologist from the Bronx zoo said most of the birds in the flight apparently were oven-birds. Other species of Maryland warblers and redstarts.

Other hundreds of the birds were stunned but revived and flew on after two or three hours of hopping around the streets and sidewalks at the base of the building.

Joseph Pagnone, of Brooklyn, was driving along Fifth avenue when he was caught in a shower of falling birds.

"I was driving along about 3 a. m. when my headlights picked up a flock of birds and I saw them thudding and thumping on the hood and roof of my car," he said. "I stopped and got out, and these birds were falling all around me. I couldn't believe it."

A policeman, weary from a night of keeping order, answering questions, and shoveling up birds, said:

"This is the biggest thing since the flying saucers."

By the time daylight office workers entered the building, department of sanitation and ASPCA employees and cleared most of the dead and injured birds from the streets. But hundreds lay or fluttered weakly about on parapets.

Queuille Seeks to Get France Back on Feet

Paris, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Premier Henri Queuille today offered France a program of budget reductions and increased taxes in an attempt to get the nation back on its financial feet.

Queuille, who was elected to the French assembly in 1946, said he was seeking to put France back on its feet by a program of budget reductions and increased taxes.

Europe Nations Agree on U. S. Dollar Division

Paris, Sept. 11 — (AP) — The nations of Western Europe today reached the first milestone in working together for mutual recovery when delegates agreed on the division of $4,755,000,000 in American aid funds.

The decision for the first year of the European Recovery Program (ERP) embraces a system of intra-European assistance which has still to be filled out by an agreement on currency exchange.

The council of the European Economic Cooperation organization (OEEC) prepared these agreements in a six-hour session last night. Work on the scheme for currency payments will continue today.

As soon as the council agrees on the currency proposals it will go to work on the details of the 1948-49 recovery program for admission to the American economic cooperation administration (ECA). Each participating nation is to alter its program to conform with the aid allocations drawn up last night.

The proposed division of American aid for the first year, as revealed by the council, gave Britain the greatest amount — $1,223,000,000. The United States, which had a cut of $100,000,000 from the British portion of the schedule, originally drawn by the council's subcommittee of experts.

In the amounts granted France, Italy, Sweden and the Netherlands $440,000,000, Austria, $257,000,000, Denmark, $190,000,000, Norway, $184,000,000, Finland, $79,000,000, Turkey, $50,000,000, Sweden, $42,000,000, Trieste, $15,000,000, and Iceland, $11,000,000.

The balance of Germany drew $440,000,000. An additional $10,000,000 is set aside by the schedule to purchase sterling in Britain for the bizon. The French zone of Germany will receive $10,000,000 under the schedule.

U. S. Beauty Just Won't Pose in Nude

Rome, Sept. 11 — (UP) — Shapely Lucaine Miller, an American movie actress, kept her bathing suit on today.

The indignant screams of Italian sculptor Asses Peikov, who was asked in his arguments by most of the Roman art colony along the Via Margutta, didn't sway her.

"I'm very American," Miss Miller told him firmly. "We don't pose in nude bathing suits."

Peikov, who looks a lot like Jerry Colonna, was very disturbed. He slumped furiously at the life-size—clay figure he was modeling.

"In Italy," he cried, "any artist would pose in the nude. You wear a bathing suit. I do your legs. I do your middle between the two pieces of your suit. I do your breasts. But I cannot do more because I cannot see it. How do I know what to put there?"

"I'll tell you now," Miss Miller told him.

Peikov had been commissioned to sculpture—nude—a statue of Miss Miller's legs and body, and to top it off with a head of Swedish Film Actress Elsie Alton. It's to be used in the movie "Rapture," which is being shot in Italy by an independent company using American dollars and mostly American players.

"I came to see Peikov and I brought my bathing suit," Miss Miller, a 23-year-old brunette, said. "I put it on. He asked me to take it off. He said he had to see my my figure. I just wouldn't do it."

The bathing suit looked brief enough. It was adequate. It was a piece of white lace. He asked me to take it off. He said he had to see my my figure. I just wouldn't do it."

"I cannot sculpture a nude statue from a dressed model," he cried. "I will get another model for the dressed parts. Imagine—three models for a single figure. It is not intelligent. They will not let me. He has his clay-smeared hands through it."

"What you look like, Miss Miller?" He asked desperately. "What you really look like?"

"I'll look tonight and see," the actress replied.

State Righters Get Boost in Louisiana

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 11 — (AP) — With President Truman's name securing a victory in the state, State Righters Democrats were jubilant today over prospects of regaining Louisiana's electoral votes in November.

An unprecedented action by the Louisiana Democratic State Central committee chairman, the national democratic party ticket from the Nov. 2 general election.

At the same time the committee in its unanimous decision yesterday substituted the State Righters ticket for Governor J. Morgan Kousser's ticket.

Democratic action was a protest over the president's civil rights program.

States Righters reaction was immediate and extreme at the move which challenges President Truman except as a write-in candidate.

Gov. Thurmond, winding up a Texas tour at San Antonio, said he expects other states to follow suit in designating him and Gov. Whitlatch as the nominees of "the new movement."

Crow-Claughton Rehearsal Dinner in Little Rock

The Claxton-Crow rehearsal dinner given by Miss Claxton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Claxton, was held in Hotel Sam Peck, Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The table was decorated with white asters. Laney Asked to Save Railway

Little Rock, Sept. 11 —(AP)— A Citizens committee seeking to prevent the junking of the Missouri and Arkansas railroads has called upon Governor Laney to act immediately to "save" the line.

The committee, meeting here yesterday, asked that:

(1) The governor call an immediate session of the Arkansas legislature;

(2) The legislature exercise the states power of eminent domain, condemn the railroad and appropriate funds to buy it at the salvage value fixed by a jury; and

(3) The line be held for lease by "reliable and capable persons or corporations."

The committee's action is adopted by a resolution urging these steps and a stamp of approval of the plan first suggested by State Sen. Ernest Nicholson of Harrison. Nicholson last week asked Laney to call a special session to consider the sale of the M. A., which must be junked if a purchaser is not found by Oct. 9.

The 260-mile railroad has been idle since a walkout of employees two years ago.

The governor is not expected to return from his vacation in Wyoming until about Sept. 26. Attorney General Guy E. Williams suggested the governor cut his vacation short, however, that the committee ask that action could be taken before the sale by the state.

The committee's attorney, Eugene H. Warren, declared that "only one person can save the railroad. That man is Governor Laney."

Under the state purchase plan, the line would be bought with money from an unencumbered balance of $1,747,710 in the state treasury. The resolution adopted by the committee set forth that "it is understood that no member of the group has any idea of putting the state in the business of running a railroad," since the property would be sold to interests willing to operate it.

Firemen to Meet in Fort Smith in '49

Harrison, Sept. 11 —(AP)—The Arkansas Firemen's Association will hold its 1949 convention in Fort Smith, Ark.

Selection of the convention site came as the association ended this year's meeting here Friday after electing Chief John Wierdt, Stuttgart, to a three-year term on the board of trustees. He succeeds Frank Smith, El Dorado.

The group voted to ask the legislature to double contributions to the association's pension fund by increasing to two per cent the amount received from fire insurance policy premiums in the state.

THE STORY: Dying in the Indian desert, British secret agent Hilary Shenstone feels a desperate need to get back to England and to Nuns Farthing, his family home. He doesn't know the house has been burned to the ground.

17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return. Hilary does return to England and to Nuns Farthing—after a year. He is in his old attic room when Sabrina comes up. She is unaware of his presence but Hilary manages to get through to her a little and she seems happy. Hilary realizes she is the girl he would have loved, if something hadn't gone wrong out there on the frontier.

XX
A few days later Sabrina sat down in a deck-chair on the lawn, while Aunt Effie used along the herbaceous border sipping faded blooms into a basket. It was nearly 5. They were waiting for tea to come out to the table laid under a big tree.

The white lace cloth stirred in a languid breeze, the silver tray and flowered Worcester china glinted with shifting flecks of sunlight which fell through the whispering leaves above. A bowl of strawberries and an uncut cake had already arrived. Nuns Farthing dressed in a perfectness not of this bustling world.

Just as the little procession of Mrs. Pilton with the teapot and silver urn on a tray, followed by Jennie with a plate of thin bread-and-butter left the house and started across the lawn, an open green four-seater with a solitary man at its wheel turned in at the gate and swept noisily along the drive to the steps, where it drew up with a flourish.

Sabrina's heart turned clean over. Here was the dream coming true. He had arrived.

"Who on earth can that be?" muttered Aunt Effie, frowning her basket and showing behind Sabrina's chair and pulling off the disreputable gloves she wore to garden in.

"Just at tea-time, too, and with your father away for the afternoon. We shall have to offer him tea, I suppose. Tell Jennie to bring another cup, Sabrina, while I go and see who it is."

Aunt Effie hurriedly crossed the grass towards the car. Sabrina had got out of her chair and stood watching, a thumping in her chest the time she saw the side of the car was opening. Being another cup, Sabrina, while I go and see who it is."

Sabrina, as she faced them, noticed that her knees were shaking and her hands were limp. He had taken off his hat now and carried it in his hand, uncovering nondescript blondish hair well flattened down on a comical head above a big neck. The collar of his blue shirt was a bit too tight. Expensive tailoring could not disguise the unattractive bulkiness of his body in gray flannel.

DOROTHY DIX Debts of Parenthood

Parents are always talking about how much their children owe to them. From their infancy practically all youngsters have to listen to the thrum song of how grateful they should be to their dear Father and Mother for having brought them into the world and fed and clothed them.

Which is all very well, for many fathers and mothers do work hard at the parent job and do turn out good and happy children. But even so, the obligations of the parents, who thrust life upon a child, are a million times greater than any debt the child can owe them.

If parents stopped to consider what they owed their children, it would throw them into spiritual bankruptcy, for who would have the courage to have another baby if they sat down and counted up what their indebtedness would be to the little mite of humanity?

Thus how the account would run! Just to begin with, as parents start them off with a sound body. That is their birthright. They have been cheated and defrauded if they do not get this.

Parents owe their children a peaceful and happy home in which to grow up, and they are the ones who are entitled to sue for damages if their characters have been warped and their faith in all that is good and kind destroyed by fighting fathers and mothers.

Children have the right of priority in the home and their well-being comes before anything else. Parents have no right to take their pleasure at the expense of their children. The obligations of fathers and mothers to their children is a debt of honor that must be paid first.

Parents owe their children a proper rearing for that determines what they are going to be in life. There isn't a girl who goes astray, nor a boy who grows up to be a drunkard and a wastrel, or a thief, or a murderer who cannot say: "I am what I am because my parents defaulted on their debt to me."

Parents owe their children personal service. You can't treat children by remote control and make a success of it. It isn't having too much money that ruins the children of the rich. It is having too little fathers and mothers.

All children are entitled to a square deal in life. If their parents turn them over to hirelings to rear, and make schools a substitute for a home, and have tutors form their ideals, they have been robbed of the most precious thing in the world.

All children have a right to a father and mother, else God would not have made rearing a family a partnership business. But it is perfectly appalling how many poor, nels. This was never Hilary... well, yes, I could do with a spot of tea." His voice could be heard now with its flat, Mayfair note. "I had rather a scratch lunch in Town soon after 12."

"a, no, not Hilary—please God, don't let Hilary be like this... myself, we're very glad to have you join at tea. Aunt Effie was crying cordially. "This is my niece Sabrina. This is Mr. Shenstone, dear."

"How do you do?" said Sabrina faintly.

"How d'ya do?" said the visitor, and his pale eyes rested a moment without interest on the white-faced girl who had risen to greet him, before they went on to the tea-table. "Good afternoon, Mrs. Pilton, still turning out those marvelous tea-cakes. I see I suppose I shall make a pig of myself, as usual."

"This is Master Hilary's favorite cake, sir—the one without currants. If you'd warmed me you were coming, I could have made the other kind."

Reluctant as she was through Sabrina, Hilary asked: "But of course it was George, she had known all the time it could never, never be Hilary..."

"Yes—as a matter of fact," said George, and his florid face clouded over.—as a matter of fact, I've got rather bad news about my brother."

"I'm sorry to hear that, sir."

"Bad news?" stammered Aunt Effie, with a glance at Sabrina who was staring at him dumbly and holding to the back of a chair.

"He was killed out in India, a few days ago."

"It came as a bit of a shock, though we hadn't heard from him for some time, and my mother had begun to be anxious. We thought—that is, we thought I had better come down here and see about his things."

"Yes, of course—I mean—but you really must sit down comfortably and have some tea first, now that it's here," groaned Aunt Effie.

Mrs. Pilton turned then and went away across the grass, her footsteps making no sound, her face as inscrutable as ever. It was no shock to her to hear that Hilary, proxy-child of her barren heart, was dead. For several days she had been schooling herself to the knowledge, so mysteriously come by in the Mendip dusk. Her anxiety now was all for the eager, restless spirit of him that had come home, and for the girl-child Sabrina, who was certainly involved in the mysterious destiny.

"Do sit down, Mr. Shenstone," Aunt Effie urged him helplessly, herself collapsing into the chair nearest the tea-pot. "Sabrina, darling, you'll feel better when you've had a bit of tea."

"Please, Auntie, will you excuse me?" gasped Sabrina. "I really don't want any tea."

She walked away blindly towards the house, breaking into a stumbling run when she had got as far as the door.
